

A GUIDE TO HANDICAPS AND HOW TO CALCULATE COURSE HANDICAP ON GHIN APP

1. Download the GHIN app on your phone

Once you have your GHIN membership established, download the GHIN app and log-in.
(The pro shop can help you set up your Handicap membership)

When you Log In your home screen will look like this.

This number is your Handicap Index (please note it is your "General" H.I. – anywhere in the world, but it needs to be adjusted for every course that you play according to each course difficulty.

If you have just established your GHIN membership, you will not have an established handicap number yet..... therefore, instead of a number it will show N.H. (NO HANDICAP)

After you have posted 3 scores, you should generate a Handicap, with 54 being the highest GHIN allows.

2. How to get your Handicap at the Course you are playing

As mentioned, your Handicap Index has to be adjusted to the course you are playing at.

At the bottom on the home screen select HANDICAP CALCULATOR

It will take you to this screen...

Select the course you are playing at.....

Choose if you are playing 18 Holes or 9 Holes

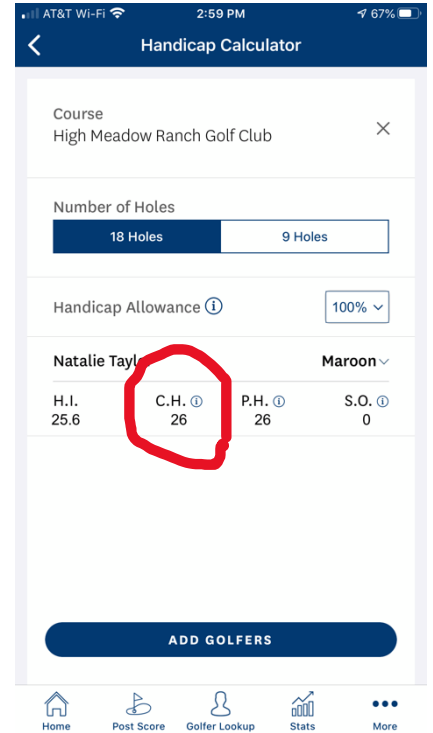

Then select which tees you are playing from.

It will then bring you to this :

While your Handicap Index might be 25.6, your actual COURSE HANDICAP to play at the course you selected is 26!

This is the number you use for your scorecards.

3. Remember that GHIN allows a max. index of 54, however on Official HMRLGA playdays, the max we allow you to use on your scorecard is 43.
